DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after allowance or after an Office action under Ex Parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213 (Comm'r Pat. 1935). Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 06/05/2006 has been entered.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 06/05/2006 was filed with the above-mentioned RCE. The submission is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

3. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 06/06/2006 was filed within three months of the filing of the above-mentioned RCE. The submission is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 2 and 4-21 are allowed.

5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

A. The reasons for allowance set-forth in prior actions are incorporated herein.

B. The above-mentioned Information Disclosure Statements cite two documents particularly relevant to the claimed invention.

Art Unit: 1762

i. McMahon et al. (US 3,130,061 A) teaches the treatment of a metal substrate with a coating composition comprising colloidal silica (SiO_2) binder and lithium hydroxide (M_2O) in a molar ratio of about 40:1 to 2.5:1 [1:19-23]. This reference fails to teach post-treating of the composition with a film strengthening solution, aqueous solution of an inorganic salt, or a silicate or alkoxysilane solution. Sano remains the closest prior art, including this post-treatment. As noted in the Notice of Allowability mailed 11/15/2005, the invention of Sano rests in mechanical and thermal properties realized by coating with a composition having a particular viscoelastic property [1:34-51 and 45-47]. This coating composition has a molar ratio of 0.5-15 (4:45-60), which is outside applicant's claimed range, and is accompanied by a teaching that changing the molar ratio will change the viscosity of the coating composition [4:51-55]. Consequently, it is clear that Sano's molar ratio is critical to the invention, and that it would have been obvious neither to optimize this value nor substitute the composition of McMahon so as to give the claimed molar ratio of at least 25:1. Further, McMahon teaches away from post-treatment of the coating [4:4:58-64]. Consequently, the instant claims are patentable over McMahon.

ii. Ito et al. (JP 51-73029 A) teaches an inorganic film-forming composition having a molar ratio $\text{SiO}_2:\text{M}_2\text{O}$ of 50:1 to 3:1. This reference too fails to teach post-treating. As noted above, the molar ratio of Sano is critical and it would have been obvious neither to optimize this value nor substitute the composition of Ito so as to give the claimed molar ratio of at least 25:1. Consequently, the instant claims are patentable over Ito.

C. An updated search of the prior art revealed Kushida et al. (US 5,091,224 A) which teaches both primer coating and post-treating. Here, the molar ratio $\text{SiO}_2:\text{M}_2\text{O}$ is 1.7:0.3

to 5.0:1.0, and the reference teaches away from higher concentrations [2:35-68]. Consequently, the instant claims are patentable over Kushida as well.

D. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
